FAITHFUL FRIAR:

Easter Sunday – The Last Day of the Easter Triduum

The liturgy for Easter Sunday—the last day of the Easter Triduum—is peaceful and serene. One interiorizes and meditates on the good news proclaimed with more exuberance during the night: “The splendor of Christ risen from the dead has shone on the people redeemed by his blood”; “Our Redeemer has risen from the tomb”; “The Lord is risen as he promised.” Celebrated in this atmosphere, the Eucharistic thanksgiving on Easter Sunday has a joyful tone which is not really contained, but rather springs from hearts penetrated with light and wonder, expressed best with simple words.

The Lord has indeed risen, alleluia.

Glory and kingship be his forever and ever.

At the same time, the Church turns to God to ask him for the resurrection of his Son to produce “today” the fruit of renewal: “Let us look not beyond our lives for him: he will join us on our own paths.”

God our Father,
By raising Christ your Son
You conquered the power of death
and opened for us the way to eternal life.
Let our celebration today
Raise us up and renew our lives
By the Spirit that is within us.

From Easter Sunday to the end of the Easter season, the first reading for the liturgy will be taken from the book of Acts. Today's passage tells how the apostles, charged by God with his mission, proclaimed Christ's resurrection “to the people,” witnessing to what they had seen and heard.

The centurion of Caesarea would have heard of Jesus of Nazareth's death on the cross and the terror of the officer in charge of the execution (Matt 27:54), perhaps even those things that happened at the tomb. But he could not know the good news of the resurrection: Peter was sent to announce it to him by swearing that with others, “chosen beforehand by God,” he saw the risen Christ, and ate and drank with him. This is the testimony of faith. Peter himself, along with other witnesses, was at first troubled by the discovery of the empty tomb, not knowing what to think, supposing the women's words to be “nonsense”. For him to pass from doubt to perplexity to faith, the Lord has to appear to the apostles, explain the Scriptures to them, and remind them of what he had said.

Our faith in the resurrection rests on the testimony of the apostles, transmitted in and through the Church; those who have received it must make it known to others: “The Lord has truly been raised and has appeared to Simon”.

But Easter is not an ending. It is the summit of salvation history and gives it its definitive orientation; it continues now and shall continue until the end. Today, everyone who believes in the risen Lord “has forgiveness of sins.” Tomorrow, Christ the conqueror of death will appear as “judge of the living and the dead.”

This is, in all its fullness, the mystery celebrated by the Church.

Interim Faithful Friar (Assembly #67)

FAITHFUL NAVIGATOR:

Sir Knights,
Time is running out to get new members before the Exemplification on April 27th in Sacramento. We have just one more meeting to have them read. If you're going to the Exemplification, you need to make your reservations now if your planning on spending the night. If your wife or lady friend is going with you there is a Ladies Luncheon during the Exemplification and the cost is $35 and the banquet is $45. New member's if you don't plan on staying for the banquet, I need to know so I can let the Master know so he is aware and can cancel the dinner otherwise he is responsible for the cost of the meal.

COLOR CORPS COMMANDER CORNER:

I would like to welcome our newest member Dan Rodrigues. As of June 31st, we will be required to wear the new uniform, but keep your old regalia because sometimes it is requested, and I will get permission from the Master to wear it.

Tom Cunningham Jr. (592-5886).
CC Commander

Notes form the Comptroller:

This month we need a complete slate of officers to led us over the next year or two. If you would like to become an officer and move up through the chairs, call me and I will explain the duties of any of the offices to you. The duties are not difficult, it only took me three different times as FN. (I'm still learning). Election will be held at the May meeting in accordance with the by-laws. NAME BADGES After the elections I will be ordering name badges for the new officers. Anyone desiring a badge at this time, let me know and I will order you a badge - Saves postage!! I know a few members have asked me for badges, but right now I'm not sure who asked (blame it on old age). Let me know at the meeting or by email, ruthe-tomc@sbcglobal.net.

Still looking for new addresses and phone numbers for any Paradise SK's that had to move because of the Camp Fire. Email your new address and phone numbers so I can keep you informed of the goings on in the assembly. (ruthe-tomc@sbcglobal.net). I DO NOT GIVE OUT PERSONAL INFORMATION ON ANYONE!!

Scholarships:

As of this writing, I have four (4) applications for the awards. They will be rated by the committee at the April meeting. If I receive an application postmarked by the 31st it will be considered. The two (2) winners will be notified by mail. The checks will be issued in September after I receive proof of acceptance by the institution.

CANDY

I have 1 soft center, 1 milk chocolate left. Not sure what I'll do with them.

Storage fees are awfully high!!

about whatever. Again, our new website can be found at: (<http://kofc-ca-d2.org/assembly-67/>)

So, let's not be bashful and take up this wonderful opportunity to help the Assembly and learn something new and useful.

Sincerely Yours in Christ,

SK Lou Gervais your Webmaster

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Kids today don't know how easy they have it. When I was a kid I had to walk 9 feet through shag carpet to change the TV channel! When I was a kid, I tuned in a radio!!

Notes form the Webmaster:

Dear SK Knights, Thank you for your contribution of $50. towards my cost in hosting our website. I am happy to report that the website has launched on St. Patrick's Day and is up and alive. I am currently working to develop a new Newsletter archive engine that will give you the ability to retrieve all past newsletters that we had before and this one will be much improved to give you the ability to see all newsletters that are created within our district.

Our new website address can be found at:

<http://kofc-ca-d2.org/assembly-67/>

Now that we have a new home I ask that you identify someone within our Assembly that is willing to setup to handle the Assembly's content and become their Newsletter Editor and Chief. I have an outline of all that that is required and will send to anyone upon request. Training, guidance, and support is being offered to anyone that accept this special opportunity.

One additional item for all. This is our website and it is important to always have it up to date. So please continue to get all content, updates, and most importantly, corrections when found over to me.

Our domain name is KofC-CA-D2.org. I encourage each of you to take the time to become familiar with what we have and send me your comments about what you like, changes that you would like to see or questions

Happy Easter

May God Protect & Guide Us
